How We Will Calculate Your Balance: We use a method called “daily balance (including new purchases)”. See the Cardmember Agreement for more details.

Loss of Introductory APR: We may end your Introductory APR and apply the Penalty APR if you make a late payment.

Billing Error Rights: Information on your rights to dispute transactions and how to exercise those rights is provided in your Cardmember Agreement.

Variable Rate Information: The standard Annual Percentage Rates (APRs) on your Account that are used to determine the amount of interest to be charged for Purchases, Balance Transfers (after the Introductory Period), Cash Advances, and the Penalty APR are variable rates. Introductory APR is available on all Balance Transfers made during the first 90 days after account opening. The introductory APR will be applied to each eligible Balance Transfer for the first twelve billing cycles after the date of the Balance Transfer.

The APRs on your Account correspond to Daily Periodic Rates (DPRs) and are calculated by multiplying the applicable DPR by 365. The DPRs on your Account equal 1/365th of the sum of 1) the applicable Prime Rate, 2) plus 11.99% for Purchases, plus 11.99% for Balance Transfers, plus 18.99% for Cash Advances; and plus up to 25.99% for the Penalty APR (maximum penalty APR 29.99%). The “Prime Rate” used in determining the APRs in each billing cycle will be the highest U.S. Prime Rate published in the Money Rates column of The Wall Street Journal on the last business day of each month. An increase or decrease in the Prime Rate will cause a corresponding increase or decrease to your variable rates on the first day of the billing cycle that begins in the same month in which the applicable Prime Rate is published. There is no limitation on the amount of any increase. Any such increase or decrease will cause a corresponding increase or decrease in the amount of interest assessed and possibly in the amount of the Minimum Payment Due. If The Wall Street Journal does not publish the U.S. Prime Rate, or if it changes the definition of the U.S. Prime Rate, we may substitute another index.

The current rates on your Account. The rates on your account vary with the market based on the Prime Rate. The following rates are accurate as of April 2022. The DPR for your Introductory Balance Transfer Rate during the introductory period would have been 0.0000% (which corresponds to an introductory APR of 0.00%). The DPR for Purchases would have been 0.0424% (which corresponds to an APR of 15.49%). The DPR for Balance Transfers would have been 0.0424% (which corresponds to an APR of 15.49%). The DPR for Cash Advances would have been 0.0616% (which corresponds to an APR of 22.49%). The Penalty APR established by the variable rate formula above would have been a DPR of up to 0.0808% (which corresponds to an APR of up to 29.49%). Maximum Penalty APR is 29.99% (daily periodic rate 0.0822%)
